Conserving Electricity and Fuel for your Home (and Planet!) A How-To Workshop on Reducing your Energy Bills

Presented by Larry Owens – Professional Home Energy Consultant and Director of the NW Solar Center, Snohomish County

The home heating season has begun and that means soaring fuel bills! The good news is there are many things – large and small – you can do to lower your costs, and at the same time be part of the solution for the global energy crisis.

This 90-minute workshop provides step-by-step information for a home energy audit. Please bring your most recent utility and fuel bills – for electricity, home heating and cooking. Owens will walk us through the most cost effective steps for lowering costs and avoiding energy waste. And, see how your fuel and power costs compare to averages in the region.

Complimentary handouts will provide tips on the most-effective changes you can make at home, plus resources for further information, expertise, contractors and financial assistance.

Wednesday, December 13th
7:00pm to 8:30pm
Madison Ave. Firehouse

(Park in the firehouse lot on the west side of Madison Ave)
